

Press Release – Örnsköldsvik, Sweden, November 3:rd 2004

Clavister Strengthens its Management Team

Clavister strengthens its management team with Mr Raoul Shabastari as the new Vice President of Sales & Marketing. Mr Shabastari was earlier the Director of Strategic Alliances at Stonesoft and has strong relations among distributors and system integrators from his earlier position. Mr Shabastari will expand Clavister's presence in key international markets and be responsible for the Clavister's own branded global sales.

Clavister is experiencing an increasing demand for its reliable and high performance security products, which have been recognized by the IT industry. As a result, there is a need to strengthen the management team to respond to further future growth and customer demands.

"Our business is continuously finding new opportunities and we have come to a point where we need more experience in managing the company. With Mr Shabastari's background can we grow our success story" says Peter Johansson CEO and President of Clavister.

"With my earlier experiences from Stonesoft and the opportunity Clavister offers its customers I do foresee a strong growth in sales of our products during 2005", says Raoul Shabastari.
